Inception Review Summary:

We, as a team, felt that your presentation and outline were very professional and that your app could have good functionality for its intended audience (UTA students in Japan). The biggest issues we noted were the limited information that the use case diagram provided and the potential for extraneous information from map. We'd also like to see a more in-depth risk assessment. Two features that we felt your app may benefit from have also been noted. Those would be the Japanese to English common phrase translator and the ability to authenticate users. Overall, we felt you've done a great job at both providing the idea for an app that would benefit your target audience and presenting that information in a professional manner.
